

Dear Junior,

I was at the game this past weekend. I'm so sorry Rowdy did that to you. Like I said a while back, Rowdy has given up. I see it in the class everyday. The only thing he really perks up about is Basketball. I'm so sorry, Junior. I knew it would be difficult for you to leave the reservation, but I didn't imagine I would cost you so much. It looks like even Rowdy tried to kill you, but you survived. You fought that off like you have fought off the white kids. From what I saw at the game, it looks like they even like you. I knew you would. You deserve the world, Junior. Keep fighting and learning until you have it, until you have it all. I cannot wait to see the rematch. You will continue to grow, I know it. Boy do I know it.

Sincerely,

Mr. P
